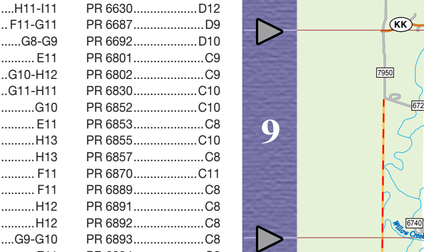
MAKE IT HAPPEN HERE
WEST PLAINS
- MISSOURI -



West Plains is a city in Howell County, Missouri, United States. The population was 11,986 at the 2010 Census. It is the county seat of Howell County.

The history of West Plains can be traced back to 1832, when settler Josiah Howell (after whom Howell County is named) created the first settlement in the region known as Howell Valley.

Tucked in the Ozark Mountains, near pristine wilderness areas and spring-fed streams, the City of West Plains attracts nature lovers, entrepreneurs, and families searching for a small-town feel with big-city conveniences.

As the largest city within 100 miles of south central Missouri, West Plains provides the most options for lodging, dining, outfitting, and other services unavailable at the final destination.

Make It Happen Here is more than just a slogan to us. . .thousands of people enjoy the comforts of great schools, quality healthcare, higher education, and the progressive spirit of entrepreneurship to make their own lives happen here.

West Plains is truly a place where you can experience life on your terms.

The City of West Plains operates under a Home Rule City Charter, adopted by the citizens in 2014. It provides for a Council/Manager form of government. The city is governed by a City Council comprised of the Mayor and four Council members, who serve four-year terms. All Council members are voted on by qualified voters of the city.

Public schools are provided by the West Plains R-7 School District, providing education to more than 2,000 students.

In addition, some parts of the immediate area surrounding West Plains are covered by rural schools. After eighth grade, students from the rural schools may merge into West Plains High School.

Private education is also provided in the West Plains area, primarily by religious institutions.

Opportunities for higher education include Missouri State University-West Plains, South Central Career Center and the new Greater Ozarks Center for Advanced Technology (GOCAT).
